THE NATIVE BAR.

There is considerable agitation among the clerks of the members of the Native Bar owing to a circular that has been recently sueed. It is a neatly got up and quite innocent-looking circular printed on card-board and folded in half like a dance programme, though a trifle larger. The following is a translation of the document. The seal of the Native Court of Appeal appears at the top:—

in a translation of the document. The ion is a translation of the document. The ion is a translation of the document. The state of the translation of the document of the property against permission to [name of clerk] agent of Mr. [name of barrister, barrister, to take opine of civil and criminal proceedings; to-demand opines and give receipts for same, including copines of executive judgments; to pay Courf fees; to pay money into and receiver among out of Court, and to represent his of chamber clerks of the Courc cavery division of chamber clerks of the Courc cavery division. On the other side is space for a photograph. It has been ironically suggested that the Ministry of Justice should have gone further, and required (i) periodical inspection of the clerk casier judiciaire, (2) anthropometric certificate vouched by the Government Bureau, (3) thumb impression; (4) certificate or birth. A copy of the regulations was ent to a well-known. Lendon barrister's clerk of very long diploss which the Court have red the continuous contributes to the court of the co
