The ball held at the Ghezireh Casino yes The ball fel! at the Ghezirch Casino yesterday evening was a most brilliant success. In the decorations palms and flowers were extensively employed, and, together with a profusion of uniforms and pretty toilettes, made a very charming sight. A large number of the officers of the Army of Occupation were present, with many well-known viaitors and residents, and we noticed a very large foreign element. The floor was very good, and the unuser was in excellent time. The last of the slancers did not leave until an early hour this anoming. AN INTERESTING PERSONALITY.

AN INTERESTING PERSONALITY.

The short stay in Alexandria of Capt. Perio, of the Russian Army, prior to his embarking to-day on the Messageries Maritimes steamer for Paris, anabled a representative of the "Egyptian Gastle" to glean, in the course of a short interview with the gallant captain at the Hotel Abbas, a few particulars relating to the siege of Port Arthur.

Capt. Perio is on his way to Paris in order to arrange for the publication of a history of the celebrated siege. For this task he is eminently qualified. Not only was he in Port Arthur during the eleven months that preceded the fall of the fortress, but to fully five years before the commencement of the precedule was and he as in his possession all the maps and plans necesfary to opposite the content of the precedule of the defence of Port Arthur. He and a brother officer kept elaborate diaries of the siege, but the latter having been killed, the only diary now available is that in his (Capt. Perio's) possession.

From the few incidents and descriptions given to our interviewer it is evident that Capt. Perio's forthcoming book will be one that will acuse world-wide interest, and its publication will be awaited with impatience both by the general public and the military pro-

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY AT SUEZ

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

FROM OR CORRESPONDENT).

Sees. Wednesday.
Owing to Lloyd's not being able to obtain permissions from the Egyptian Government for the installation of wireless telegraphy at Suer, they have for the present abandoned the idea of making a station here.

Mr. Frajbaker and his assistant, who came to Sues to werk the station, are shortly going home. It is ubject to the considerable amount of telegraphic business done between Sues and Port Said, which would naturally diminish should Lloyd's have established wireless communication between the two Canal towns.
